County Ready to Go Back Into Health Unit; Meeting Outlines Contract Terms

Twin Falls county will be a participating member of the southcentral district health unit again by next Monday, County Commissioner Russell (Bud) Larsen said Wednesday night at a meeting held at the Magic Valley Memorial hospital. Larsen was chairman of the meeting called to study a contract which will be signed with the health unit and state health department. Present at the meeting were the county commissioners, members of the board of directors of the health unit, school officials and members of the Twin Falls medical profession.

Larsen, who said the commissioners could have gone ahead and signed the contract without consulting anyone, said the county board had called the meeting to make certain the contract satisfied all concerned. No objections were voted which will prevent the contract signing. Larsen predicted the signing will take place either this Friday or next Monday during the commissioners regular meeting.

The contract itself provides a quick means of withdrawing from the health unit if the county sees fit to do so. The contract may be canceled at the end of any month upon notice of either party ahead of time. Also, it may be modified by mutual agreement of both sides.

The health program defined in the contract defines the services which the health unit may provide. They include cancer control, crippled children services, dental public health, health and sanitation, general communicable-disease control, heart disease control, maternal and child health, occupational health service, tuberculosis control, venereal disease control, vital records service, hospital survey and planning services, water pollution control, formulation of educational programs and laboratory services.

Dr. George T. Davis indicated some concern over a public health program which would extend into fields of non-communicable diseases. He indicated he believes the "whole thing is a socialized program."

The doctor said, "a man is responsible for his own health; the government is not." He admitted a public health program was good but said it should limit itself to contagious diseases.

"You're opening the door for expenditure of a lot of money," he pointed out.

A member of the health unit board stated the unit was not actively creating the non-communicable disease.

Budget Examined in Advance of Hearing

Carl Irwin, right, former Twin Falls county senator, explains items in state budget to Chamber of Commerce board member, Egan Kroell, in preparation for the taxation-revenue committee hearing in Twin Falls Saturday night. Irwin, present chairman of the legislative committee of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, points out the Saturday session will be the only one held in Magic Valley by the committee. He urges all interested Magic Valley residents to attend the hearing. (Staff photo-engraving)

FREE AND EASY

Adlai Stevenson made a thoughtful talk the other day in which he contrasted the aggressiveness of the iron-disciplined Communist tyranny with the "sluggish" complacency of the Western democracies. But it isn't clear that he got to the root of the matter.

He described America and its free friends as having a "chaotic, selfish, indifferent commercial society," and declared that "outer tyranny" like Russia's "may well triumph over the inner, purposeless tyranny of a confused and aimless way of life."

Echoing a complaint lodged by a good many others, Stevenson said U. S. diplomacy and strategy in all its phases has been "to a depressing degree purely defensive," even though our principles of justice and the pursuit of happiness still have positive validity.

He seems to get close, but not all the way, to the heart of things when he suggests we may have confused "the free with the free and easy." If freedom means ease alone, its spirit will die through its forms remain, he says.

Where Stevenson perhaps falls short is in the evident implication that what he complains of is a condition only of the present age, a failure only of today's leaders.

But is this the fact?

Were the men of the free world anything but defensive as they came up under the guns of Kaiser Wilhelm II in World War I? Were they not pushed to the brink of defeat before they struck militantly for the preservation of freedom?

Was the situation not as bad—or worse 20 years later when Hitler's shadow spread across Europe? Only when the menace was stripped of its last thin veil did the free nations have to form lines against it.

The evidence of history is eloquent that men battle militantly for freedom only when they do not have it or when they see it in desperate peril.

When they believe the danger is small, they turn with immense concentration to the enjoyment of freedom's fruits. Freedom inevitably breeds ease and complacency. They are inherent occupational hazards. Most men do not enjoy liberty with gun in hand.

This may be one of the great ironies of history—that men who will fight and die to gain freedom turn soft in the appreciation of their prize.

Today the irony is sharpened by the more complex nature of the new tyranny which threatens.

For, actually, a strong case can be made that free men now are alert as never before to dangers of any size. When, in past times, did we have a NATO, a huge joint arsenal of devastating weapons, a worldwide propaganda agency to tell our story abroad? The answer, of course, is never.

Our alliances and our arsenals are still "defensive," admittedly. But at least they represent positive action FOR freedom, taken before it is pressed to the wall. Men who act thus have not lost freedom's spirit.

Unhappily, our task today is complicated by the fact that Communist tyranny wears a mask, a philosophy which professes concern for all humanity.

Our democratic ideals once rang round the world. But we do not know how to make them ring in the ears of millions in 1959. We sound selfish to many peoples. Meantime, tragically, they listen with interest to beckoning communism, a truly selfish fraud upon men.

We free peoples have only just learned real military alertness. It is perhaps understandable that we are still slow to deal with a far wider menace. Yet we can hope that the prodding of the Stevensons will speed us to great new levels of effort in freedom's behalf.

TOUGH 90 MINUTES

C. Douglas Dillon probably gave Mikoyan the toughest 90 minutes the Russian emissary had during his visit to the United States, and for Khrushchev and Mikoyan it was probably the most important of all the sessions which the No. 2 Russian had at Washington.

The undersecretary of state for economic affairs, a New York banker and former ambassador to France, heads up the organization specifically assigned to combat Mikoyan's trade war against the United States. He has on file a complete dossier on his visitor's commercial malpractices, and he was ready for Mikoyan.

Dillon cited instance after instance in which Mikoyan had, coldly and deliberately, pointed a gun at our foreign markets and the economies of our allies. Mikoyan tried to contend that he was simply trying to broaden the field of international trade.

However, Dillon turned him down on every specific request, from easing the current embargo to advancing credits for substantial purchases here.

Dillon said that he had no objections to deals by private firms, such as those involving benzine and steel for chrome, but that the government would not sanction any general trade agreement.

Incidentally, Mikoyan's eloquent plea for credits and goods suggests that all is not well with Khrushchev's joint program for industrial and consumer expansion.

POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—The delicate question of the political activities conducted by certain religious bodies and allied organizations will be raised when the general board of the National Council of Churches meets in Hartford, Conn., next month.

Although the wisdom of church consideration and promotion of public issues, such as school segregation, educational standards, right-to-work laws, birth control, etc., has stirred both religious and political groups ever since the Hoover-Smith campaign of 1928, it has become an even more divisive and explosive issue in recent months.

For one thing, in the face of the administration's settled policy, which is endorsed by leading Democrats and congress, the world study conference of the National Council of Churches recently recommended American recognition of godless China.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS AND DESEGREGATION—Secondly, numerous religious clerics and organizations—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—have taken a definite and vocal stand in favor of desegregation in the public schools. In many instances, their efforts to influence public opinion and political action have been condemned by individual clergymen and newspapers, especially in the Bible belt and the South.

Another example of the churches' political activity concerns right-to-work proposals, which were voted on in six states last November. The church groups condemned the antilabor measure almost unanimously.

There is no question that their expressed attitude reflects millions of voters. A clergyman's sermon normally has a greater impact than a politician's harangue.

The right-to-work proposition won only in rural Kansas. The total vote in the six states was 7,836,810 negative and 5,008,520 in favor. The agitation contributed to the defeat of many Republicans, notably former Sen. John W. Bricker, Ohio.

CRITICS OF EXTRA-CHURCHLY ACTIVITY—Not unnaturally, the principal critics of this allegedly extra-churchly activity are Republicans, ministers as well as politicians. Largely because the religious groups favor liberal and humanitarian proposals, they tend to assist the Democrats in local, state and national contests.

Rep. Walter H. Judd, Minnesota Republican, took sharp issue with the recommendation for diplomatic recognition of red China, as did the Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald and a member of the clergymen's committee of One Million Against Admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Dr. Poling and Representative Judd, a former missionary in China, conducted their own polls of thousands of ministers, and found them to be bitterly and overwhelmingly opposed to the attitude of the World Study conference.

The inference is that this group, as well as the National council itself, is not a representative body, and cannot speak for Protestant denominations.

CHINA QUESTION TO BE TAKEN UP BY CHURCH BOARDS—Dr. Poling has obtained a promise from Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the council, that the China question will be taken up at the Hartford meeting of the policy-making general board. Meanwhile, Dr. Dahlberg contends that the conference "is entitled to speak for itself."

Interestingly enough, Secretary Dulles has been closely associated with the Federal Council of Churches, the council's predecessor body. It would not be surprising if the secretary of state exerted quiet influence for rejection of the conference suggestion.

It is Dulles' contention, diplomatic as well as clerical, that recognition of red China would strengthen this communistic and atheistic regime among the very peoples whom missionaries of all faiths have labored and died to convert to Christianity.

Thus, the Hartford meeting will command unusual attention at Washington because it will be the first open showdown on this politico-religious problem.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THE OLD POLIO OUTFIT

The good folks in the Bowmont, Bennett and Selma areas, their hearts full of charity and with some $2800 to prove it, ran head on into the old National Polio Foundation's all-or-nothing grab this week. Fresh from an all-day charity auction that was enormously successful, considering the number of residents in these communities, the folks planned to divide their money between polio, heart, cancer and multiple sclerosis.

But, as the Kuna folks found out last year, polio wants no part of any division of money. Accepting anything but 100 per cent of any effort that looks in their direction is, figured by the polio folks to be a step that endangers their exclusive future as professional money raisers. This kind of brass is especially amazing in that no one but the old polio group ever had the courage to show it.

The old National Polio Foundation, in case anyone has forgotten, is now the National Foundation.

Polio's need was ended by the discovery of Salk vaccine which the foundation is inclined to hint was their exclusive accomplishment (which it wasn't) so this polished organization of professional money raisers had to find new crusade, not as much to help anything as to preserve a lot of fat jobs in the plush headquarters all over the country.

So they moved to take over Rheumatism and Arthritis but the officials of that organization, well functioning nationally and especially well organized locally, decided not to be swallowed. Possibly they felt, after investigating, that the net for research, measured by what polio had directed for that work, left too little. But the old polio outfit edged in anyway, adding a couple of other high-sounding, self-assured assignments, moved back into the fray for the donor dollar. Basically, the old polio group dug up a bunch of activities to save themselves, and nothing more.

The public, however, has been so well indoctrinated by the huckster-type drum beating of the polio organization that it is able to recruit workers and presently is running a drive in the community. They are having difficulty getting up anything to compare with the old head of steam. Undoubtedly their "take" from this area will be considerably less but that will not be a matter of public information. The old polio outfit kept the financial picture to itself. It did not, however, dispute the claim that it spent about half as much money in two years of fund raising as it had provided for research in all its previous years in business.

The research claims, measured by the total collections, remain one of the greatest overstatements of all time.

There is absolutely no reason for the community to contribute a single dime to the old polio foundation. Nor is there any reason in the world for this outfit to remain in the money-raising business. It had a mission—that mission has been fulfilled. The nation contributed endless millions to fulfill the mission. The foundation should have disbanded, to make way for other necessary and legitimate efforts along this line. It could have retired with high honors.—Bolsa Statesman

A RACE NO ONE COULD LOSE

Premier Nikita Khrushchev's forecast that the Soviet Union will outstrip the western powers, and most specifically the United States, in the race for a better standard of living gets more attention now than it used to a few years ago.

The Soviet Union has shown that it has the ability to produce, in many scientific fields the communists already lead the west...

There is no reason to fear competition like this. We have our abilities, too and start with a strong lead in the matter of standards of living. Given an understanding of the challenge and sense of urgency this country and its allies can hold their own.

But beyond that, as Vice President Nixon said in London the other day, "in such a contest, no one could really lose. The world would be infinitely better off if man's energies were used for the welfare of families rather than the building of armies."

However, Dillon turned him down on every specific request, from easing the current embargo to advancing credits for substantial purchases here.

Dillon said that he had no objections to deals by private firms, such as those involving benzine and steel for chrome, but that the government would not sanction any general trade agreement.

Incidentally, Mikoyan's eloquent plea for credits and goods suggests that all is not well with Khrushchev's joint program for industrial and consumer expansion.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—While most of dollars under promotion of education, Keyserling's figure is two billion dollars.

Under the heading, promotion of public health, the administration figures add up to $78 million dollars; the Keyserling figure is $90 million dollars. On housing the economy budget is $37 million dollars, the spending budget $14 billion dollars.

The viewpoints as well as the figures are sharply opposed. The administration puts most of the blame for rising prices and inflation on the demands of organized labor. Powerful unions have pushed wages up beyond any justification in increasing productivity.

In the Keyserling view the largest share of the blame must fall on business, particularly big business, for continuing to raise prices even when demand was falling sharply.

This is the field of "administered prices" in steel, automobiles and other major factors directly related to the cost of living. Having pushed prices far beyond any justification in increased wage and raw material costs, as Keyserling sees it, at a time when big industry was operating at 60 or 70 or even 80 per cent of capacity, business is now ready to make a killing as production goes up.

The difference over the consequences of a spending budget and an economy budget are equally sharp. The administration claims that its budget will result in a growth in production approaching six per cent.

Keyserling and the spenders say, in effect, yes, that may be right but most of this will, in fact, be making up for the production lost during the recession. In short, we will merely be catching up with where we were a year and half or two years ago.

According to Keyserling in his presentation to the congressional Rockefellers, the administration's budget with inflation discounted it can be shown that the average rate of growth since the end of the Korean War has been only 1.3 per cent.

His spending budget would mean a growth rate of three per cent plus overcoming the loss of the recession. As to inflation in the future, Keyserling argues that Eisenhower's unplanned deficit will be far more inflationary than a budget with a planned deficit, which provides greater spending and therefore more tax revenue.

The argument in Congress is likely to center on individual appropriations and not on opposing philosophies, with the spenders carrying the day in most instances. But the insistence on economy and a balanced budget may give the administration a political advantage for 1960.

Hike in Wage Law Opposed By Area Meet

BURLEY, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Burley Chamber of Commerce members voted opposition to raising the state minimum wage law from 75 cents to a dollar an hour at the noon meeting Monday.

Speaking in opposition were I. H. Harris, who reviewed the legislative proposal, noting he opposed any wage hike on the grounds he felt it would impose a burden on the small businessman and hinder employment of student labor.

Hermon King, tabbed the proposed bill as "inflationary." He used figures to show how the national cost of living index has been raised because of the minimum wage increase.

He said the index has increased nearly 10 points since 1958, when a minimum wage adjustment was made, while in the previous four years it advanced only one point.

It also was pointed out during the discussion that the proposed bill was actually legislation against some people securing work.

BUT NOT THIS YEAR

Sir:

I disagree with some of the experts who have been writing their opinions on the weather and what can be expected for the remainder of this season. Without doubt the rest of this winter season is going to be mild.

But watch out for next winter! It's likely to be a doozy because a wet season usually follows a dry one. If this winter were going to

Almost Every Family in U.S. Will Be Affected by Social Security Changes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Virtually every family in America will be affected by major changes in the social security law which have gone into effect.

These changes were voted by Congress at its recent session and were signed into law by President Eisenhower on Aug. 29.

The social security administration has worked overtime since then to prepare detailed interpretations of the new amendments, and to apply them to the millions of individual cases involved.

Here is a summary of the most important changes, and how they will affect you. Additional information on specific situations may be obtained from local social security offices.

The social security tax deduction from your paycheck is now bigger, seven per cent. The tax for both employers and employees went up from 2½ per cent to 2½ per cent.

And it applies to the first $1,085. Under the new schedule, benefits for "eligible" dependents will range from $33 to $118 a month.

For example, the maximum benefit will be increased by the same percentage. For example, a retired worker and his wife, both over 65, are eligible for contribution.

The tax on self-employed persons is a maximum monthly benefit of $174.

Otherwise goes up on Jan. 1, from 3½ to 3½ per cent, and the ceiling goes to $4,800.

The higher taxes will affect 74 million people.

The 12,000,000 people who receive monthly old age survivors and disability benefits (OASI) will receive bigger checks, starting in February.

These benefits, sometimes called "welfare" or "relief" checks, go to the needy aged, the blind, disabled persons and dependent children.

Each state runs its own public assistance program, and fixes the amount of benefits to be paid.

The federal government contributes part of the cost under a complicated formula.

They retired at age 65. About 200,000 disabled workers are drawing these benefits.

Now, for the first time, their dependents also are eligible for benefits on the same basis as dependents of retired workers. But they must file applications at local social security offices.

Also, thousands of disabled workers who were previously turned down are now eligible for insurance benefits. The law used to contain two requirements for eligibility.

First, the worker needed to have social security credit at least five years before he became disabled.

Second, he had to show that he had been working at a job covered by social security for at least one and a half out of the last three years before he became disabled.

The second of these requirements has been abolished. Any disabled worker who was turned down because the federal government will be one of them.

Since 1957, disabled workers who have been able to collect, beginning at age 50, the same monthly benefit as a spouse or child. Now dependent parents who survive an insured worker are entitled to benefits regardless of whether other members of the worker's family are drawing survivors' checks.

There are about 60,000 such dependent parents. Social security is having a very hard time locating them. They must file applications to get their checks.

Under the old law, a child must have been adopted at least three years before an insured worker died in order to be counted in figuring the family's survivor's benefits. That restriction has now been eliminated. An adopted child counts like any other child, regardless of the time of adoption.

In the past, disabled children over 18 years of age qualified for benefits as dependents only if it was shown that they had been receiving at least half of their support from a retired or deceased parent who was covered by social security insurance.

Now disabled children over 18 count the same as children under 18 in computing dependent benefits, without any necessity of showing that they got half their support from the insured parent.

a new application.

The new legislation liberalizes the conditions under which survivors' benefits are payable to parents who were dependent on a worker covered by social security.

Previously, dependent parents were not eligible for benefits if the deceased worker also was survived by a spouse or child. Now dependent parents who survive an insured worker are entitled to benefits regardless of whether other members of the worker's family are drawing survivors' checks.

Health Group

eases, but was cooperative in carrying out a publicly and educational program.

Dr. J. Woodson Creed, present medical consultant for the health unit, said he does not believe the program is anything to worry about as long as it stays on the educational level.

Emerson Pugmire, chairman of the health unit board, said the present budget of the organization is set up to provide for a full-time medical director for the organization if one can be found. All present agreed that a full-time head is needed, and that he should be a physician trained in public health.

Dr. Creed indicated the unit needed to be revamped personnel-wise, and stated that if a full-time director is hired, he should be given authority to administer the unit.

The contract provides the state must approve any head of the unit before he can be hired. It also places the other employee on the merit system. This would mean that if the medical director wanted to fire an employee, he would have to go before the unit board and state his reasons. The board then would agree or disagree to firing the employee and would make its recommendations to the state.

It was pointed out that one of the reasons the last full-time medical director resigned was because of internal turmoil in the organization. Chairman Pugmire said the director had never brought any of the problems before the board, but if he had, the board would have helped him.

Cost of participating in the health unit program, according to County Commissioner Larsen, will be $13,558. Besides this amount, the county must maintain an indigent program of its own and must keep a county doctor on the county payroll.

Besides the county's cost, the city of Twin Falls must pay an additional $9,100 to participate. The local school district pays approximately $1,200 more to be a member.

Last year, without the county belonging to the unit, the city of Twin Falls participated at a similar figure of approximately $9,100. There were indications earlier that Twin Falls would have to pay a much higher price this year if the county did not rejoin. The two Democratic members of the county commission said they feel the voters last November gave them more or less a mandate to rejoin the unit.

Wide Blue Yonder

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 29 (AP)—Measurements around the seat of pilots' pants are proof that human problems are never completely solved, professor of rural sociology at Ohio State University told the 40th annual Ohio Pastor's convention here yesterday.

"In 1952," said Dr. Everett M. Rogers, "air force pilots began to complain in increasing numbers about plane seats. They were uncomfortable—too hard and too narrow. I was called in to investigate."

"Ten years before, we had measured the width of about 10,000 air-force rear ends. They averaged 22 inches wide and we designed plane seats accordingly."

"But during the 10 years, pilots' measurements had changed. Whether from better nutrition, older age or just less work, our pilots' bottoms had increased in width from 22 to 24 inches."

Marvie Spencer Taken by Death

GLENNS FERRY, Jan. 29—Marvin N. Spencer, 36-year resident of Glens Ferry, died Tuesday morning at St. Luke's hospital, Boise, after a prolonged illness. He was 71 years old.

Born Jan. 20, 1888, in Colorado, Mr. Spencer worked for the Union Pacific railroad for 40 years. He was a member of the Oldtimers' club and Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Lodge No. 387. His wife died in 1939.

Surviving are eight sons, Tom Spencer, Ontario, Ore.; John Spencer, Earl Spencer and Eugene Spencer, all Glens Ferry; Arthur Spencer, Ely; Woodrow Spencer, Roseburg, Ore.; Ralph Spencer, Great Falls, and Lewis Spencer, Gooding; three daughters, Mrs. Teresa Kapener, Boise; Mrs. Esther Oberchall, Rock Springs, Wyo., and Julia Spencer, Glens Ferry; three sisters, Mrs. James Smith, San Francisco; Mrs. Maude Irvin, Portland, and Mrs. Elsie Pfeiffer, Milton, Wash., and 18 grandchildren.

LDS services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Friday at Bay chapel by Bishop Wayne Jones. Final rites will be held at Morris Hill cemetery, Boise.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. Beeler

RUPERT, Jan. 29—Funeral services for Mrs. Bessie Beeler were held Monday at the Walk mortuary chapel, with the Rev. Norman Rutzen officiating.

A quartet, Mrs. John Rogers, Mrs. Nolen Humphreys, Arthur Gordon and Jake Wall, was accompanied by Joann Gordon, Mrs. Winona Rosa and Mrs. Rose Craven, sang a duet, with Miss Gordon as accompanist.

The body was sent to Kissel Mills, Mo., for concluding rites in the Brown cemetery.

Dairymen Receive Awards for Outstanding Production

Awards presented for outstanding production at the annual Dairy Herd Improvement association meeting Wednesday went to W. T. Lammers, Buhl, left, for herds over 30 cows; Tom Walker, Twin Falls, for medium herds, and Everett Alldrift, right, Kimberly, for herds of less than 15 head. Alvin Smulny, Kimberly, was named president of the association. Other new officers are Carl Leonard, Filer, vice president, and James Cothorn, Castleford, secretary-treasurer. Ralph Scott was named a three-year director. (Staff photo-engraving)

Chapter Gets Leaders, Sets Show for '59

Magic Valley chapter of the Snake River Valley Electrical association elected officers for 1959 and voted to sponsor a home show again this summer at a meeting Wednesday night in the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Horace Holmes will serve again as chairman of the home show, tentatively set for June. Reed Gould was elected president of the chapter. Donald W. Rasmussen, vice president, and Earl Haraldson was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Merrill Shotwell reported on the state directors meeting in Boise and announced the annual meeting of the state organization will be held Feb. 14 at the Owyhee hotel, Boise. Speaker will be Tony Whan, San Francisco, senior vice president of Pacific Outdoor Advertising company.

Members in the Snake River Valley Electrical association includes contractors, appliance dealers, electronic and repair men, as well as utility company representatives and electrical distributors.

Rabbit Drive Set For Rupert Area

RUPERT, Jan. 29—Another rabbit drive is planned for Sunday in the area north and west of Minidoka, sponsored by the Cassia county posse.

The road will be marked from Minidoka to the starting point for the drive. All those having saddle horses are invited to bring them to aid in the drive.

There will be free coffee and doughnuts and soft drinks furnished. A special invitation is extended to members of the Rupert riding club, says P. C. Miller, Minidoka, who is in charge of arrangements.

Parking Fines

Overtime parking bonds of $1 each were posted with city police Wednesday by Mrs. Ray Maughan, Jerry M. Brown, Jess Lowman, Bobby Bopp, E. S. Nielsen and L. W. Chamberlin.

Posting of a $2 improper parking bond was Joseph Shinn.

Neither Sleet

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (UPI)—A piece of mail showed Wednesday there can be a lot of difference between jet speeds in the air and the tempo of things on the ground.

A letter, postmarked at 7 a.m. Sunday in Los Angeles, was addressed to a British Overseas airway employee at Idlewild airport here. It arrived at Idlewild four hours later, on the inaugural jet flight of American airlines.

But the letter then was taken to a Queens post office along with other mail for sorting. It finally was returned to the airport and delivered Tuesday—two days after it got there.

Benefit Set

BUHL, Jan. 29—Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges of Buhl will hold a polo party at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the IOOF hall.

Pinochle will be played and women attending are asked to bring a pie. A white elephant auction will be held and those attending are asked to bring fancy work or produce. Mrs. Guy Ulrich is chairman.

Sailor Dies of Heart Seizure On Navy Ship

FILER, Jan. 28—Gerald Lawton Harding, 40, Filer, died of a heart attack Monday aboard the aircraft carrier USS Midway, according to word received by his family from the navy department.

Radioman First Class Harding was born at Filer June 15, 1918. Active in football and other sports during his four years at Filer High school, he was graduated in 1936.

Joining the navy in 1941, Harding's duty stations included the USS Nevada which was sunk at Pearl Harbor in 1941, USS Indianapolis, USS Otus, USS Pickaway naval air station at Seattle, USS Brannon and USS Navasota. He was transferred from the Navasota to CRC station, Port Hueneme, Calif. He left Port Hueneme in December and reported aboard the Midway in the middle of January.

Harding is survived by his widow, twin sons, Jeffrey Harding and Jerome Harding, two daughters, Janice Harding and Judy Harding, two brothers, Merle Harding, Rigby, and Dale Harding, Burley, and a sister, Mrs. Keith Clark, Hillsboro, Ore.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Herschel Harding.

Funeral rites will be held in the Filer IOOF cemetery. White mortuary will announce services.

Speed and Load

Road Limits Set

BOISE, Jan. 29 (UPI) — The state highway department yesterday ordered load and speed limits into effect at midnight Jan. 30 on a number of north Idaho highways.

Speed limit for trucks and buses will be 30 miles per hour but passenger car speeds are not affected.

Load limits will be 350 pounds per inch width of tire on any one wheel and a maximum of 14,000 pounds on any axle.

The limits are intended to prevent damage to highway surfaces during the spring breakup.

New Minister Is Arriving for Christian Church for Jerome

JEROME, Jan. 29—The Rev. Donald A. Ross, new minister at the First Christian church in Jerome, will be installed at Sunday morning services.

The Rev. Mr. Ross comes here from Salem, Ore., where he has served as associate minister for two and one-half years. He was graduated from Spokane university in 1931, and since that time has served parishes in Oregon and Washington. From 1942 until 1946, he served as an army chaplain in the American and European theater.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Ross and their 3-year-old daughter, Myrna Jo, were to arrive in Jerome Thursday to make their new home. They will be welcomed officially at a reception with potluck dinner following services Sunday morning.

Lloyd Ballou, Boise, state executive secretary, will be present for the installation services.

Patient Moved

JEROME, Jan. 29—Wes Harmon Eden, who was injured seriously in an auto accident Jan. 17, was moved to St. Alphonsus hospital in Boise Tuesday.

Harmon was accompanied to Boise by his brother, Jack Harmon, who is with the U.S. army stationed at the chief engineer's office, Washington D. C.

This week he got a public answer.

This, in effect, was it: If you want to trade, let's trade, but why don't you pay your bills first?

Mikoyan, Soviet first deputy premier, is the Soviet trade boss. Here he conferred with his opposite number, C. Douglas Dillon, undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

It was Dillon who gave the answer. Broken down, it goes like this: The two countries can trade, all right. But the Soviet Union which is extending credit to underdeveloped countries with which it trades, wants this country to let the Russians buy here on long-term credits.

Thus, in talking about trading with the United States, the Soviet Union is acting like an underdeveloped country itself although it is the No. 2 economic power in the world.

Moscow can't get those long-term credits—although Mikoyan laid them down as a precondition to trading—for a couple of reasons—it owes this country a big chunk of money, and until it pays up a law forbids further credits.

The Russians could do business—if they want to—on a pay-as-you-go basis, Dillon said. But he noted that the Soviet Union is the only major country with which "we have been unable to reach a settlement of their people."

APPLICATION DISMISSED

BOISE, Jan. 29 (UPI)—The Idaho public utilities commission today dismissed an application by Walt Rodabaugh, Twin Falls, for a carrier permit.

Concluding rites were held at the Rupert cemetery.

Iraq's Ouster
Wanted From Baghdad Unit

DARREL PARKE

BAGHDAD, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Left-wing elements increased their demands today for Iraq's formal withdrawal from the now misnamed Baghdad pact.

The campaign to get Iraq out of the pact was renewed as the pact's ministerial council wound up its brief semi-annual meeting in Karachi, Pakistan.

Actually, Iraq has not participated in the pact since the revolution overthrew the old regime last July 14. Since that time, the pact has been a dead letter here.

Government too Busy

The government's official position is that it is too busy to worry about the question of membership or non-membership.

Impetus was added to the anti-pact campaign this week by speakers at a rally commemorating the 1948 uprising which toppled the government after the signing of an Anglo-Iraqi treaty.

The leftist newspaper Al Bilad commented editorially that the Kaishil pact meeting was "held to discuss the consequences of the Iraqi revolution" in 1958.

United Calf Made

In a talk to visiting air pilots of the United Arab Republic, Iraqi Premier Abd Karim Kassem called for Arab unity and warned against "imperialist" attempts to separate Iraq and the UAR.

But the leftist Baghdad press continued to lash out this week at Cairo's voice of the Arabs radio and Egyptian press.

The Egyptian press replied in what was turning into a full-scale newspaper war between the two capitals.

Cars Damaged

Damaged estimated at $50 to each car resulted at 7:55 a.m. Thursday from an accident at the intersection of Avenue West and Osmonder street.

Drivers involved were Matsuye Koto, 34, 367 Ostrander street north, operating a 1950 Ford, and Leon Buster, 31, 334 Bonar avenue, operating a 1951 Buick.

No citations were issued. Both drivers reported to city police that visibility was poor and streets slippery.

Carey Twins
To Leave for LDS Mission

CAREY, Jan. 29—A missionary testimonial and farewell party were held in honor of the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Parke, Carey, who will leave Monday to begin LDS missions in the Northern and West Central states. The pair was honored with a testimonial and farewell party by Carey ward members. (Staff engraving)

No Storage

City Traffic Sgt. Frank Barneff reminded owners of unused and inoperative motor vehicles Thursday that a city ordinance prohibits parking such on the street for more than 24 hours.

Police will cite owners of unused vehicles or have the cars hauled away if they are parked on the street for any length of time.

Sergeant Barnett said vehicles bearing out-of-date license plates cannot be parked legally on the street.

Evening program numbers included a song by June Adamson, accompanied by Ken Cook; a skit, with Mrs. Vincent Olsen giving the script, and Alma Peck, Mrs. Theo Ordahl, Lauralee Benson and Mrs. Ronda Hunt in the cast.

Douglas Albrethsen sang and also played his own accompaniment on a guitar. Mrs. Louise Price presented a reading, followed by an original song by Mr. and Mrs. Ross Peck; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Stocking and Boyd Barton. Brief remarks were given by the missionaries and Bishop Verl Simpson.

A purse containing more than $500 was presented the young missionaries.

Opening prayer was offered by Vincent Olsen. Short talks were given by both boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Parke. Assigned speakers from the Blaine Stake High Council were Curtin Parke, Richfield, and Mardi Ellsworth. The concluding speaker was James Toone, of the Stake presidency.

A violin solo was played by Dale Cameron, accompanied by Mrs. Berle Cameron. The benediction was offered by W. L. Adamson.

At the farewell party Monday

Darrel will serve as an LDS missionary in the West Central states and Darwin will go on a Northern States mission. Both will enter the mission home in Salt Lake City Monday for special training and instruction. They are graduates of Carey high school and attended one year at Brigham Young University.

The testimonial was held Sunday evening in connection with sacrament meeting. Short talks were given by both young men. The meeting was conducted by Bishop Verl Simpson, and congregational singing was directed by Kenneth Cook, accompanied by Camille Rhodes.

By looking for these fingerprints, scientists could say whether fallout in particular areas was due to those particular tests. Joshua Z. Holland of the U.S. atomic energy commission told the American Meteorological society.

Holland said a special kind of radioactive atom—rhodium 102—had been introduced "as a tracer" in some devices exploded in the Pacific.

Rhodium is a metal, used mainly as an alloy with platinum, and as a plating finish for silver.

While Holland did not amplify,

Special Atoms

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Some

U.S. nuclear devices or bombs tested last summer carried special tell-tale fingerprints, a government scientist reports.

They might scatter special kinds of "radioactive atoms" which—if found—would indicate that radioactive fallout was coming from those particular tests.

Increases in radioactive fallout are usually observed in some countries following nuclear tests, whether by the United States, Russia or Britain.

New School's Master Plans
Are Released

PROVO, Utah, Jan. 29 (AP)—The master plan for the new Idaho Falls campus of Ricks college was announced yesterday by officials of the LDS church school system.

The school is being moved from Rexburg to Idaho Falls.

Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson, administrator of the LDS unified school system, said eight committees from four states are working to complete specifications so construction can begin on the 160-acre campus in Idaho Falls.

He said no actual target date has been set for beginning or completing the school.

In Rexburg, a group opposed to moving the school to Idaho Falls, disclosed plans to publish a 60-page fact-finding booklet.

Chairman Gilbert Larson charged that Dr. Wilkinson is "making desperate plans to get the college move started because he fears the decision may be reversed when the full story is disclosed."

Wilkinson said preliminary plans are for a school to house 3,000 students, but with facilities designed for expansion to handle 10,000 if necessary.

He said the school will move to campus to seat 12,000 with room for enlargement to 40,000.

Considerable on-campus housing is planned, he said, although most students are expected to commute from homes.

his remark led some sources to speculate whether the rhodium was added as a means of testing development of "clean" nuclear bombs that spread little or no radioactive fallout.

Holland said "only very small, marginal amounts of rhodium were introduced" as a tracer material, in amounts we don't expect to be able to detect."

"But if some were found in worldwide assays of fallout, then it could be a fingerprint of the summer's Pacific tests," he implied.

Increases in radioactive fallout are usually observed in some countries following nuclear tests, whether by the United States, Russia or Britain.

Vows Recited by Miss Stubblefield And D. G. Suchan

BUHL, Jan. 29.—Wedding vows were exchanged between Donna Stubblefield, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Stubblefield; Buhl, and Donald G. Suchan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Suchan, Rupert, at 3 p.m. Sunday at the First Christian church here. The Rev. Roy L. Thies performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by Dale Christensen, chose a white lace over satin ballerina-length gown accented with a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her full lace skirt featured a back panel exposing tiers of tulle. She also wore a pearl necklace belonging to her mother. Her veil of illusion was accented with a scalloped lace edge and caught in a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a spray of red roses and trimmed with pink satin bows and streamers.

Mrs. Blanche Smith was organist and accompanied Mrs. W. F. Chapman who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. George Suchan, Rupert, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, attended as matron of honor and wore a blue ballerina-length gown with a rounded neckline and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

George Suchan, Rupert, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man. Ted Wilson and Jim Dowton, Pocatello, served as usher and also lighted the tapers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stubblefield chose a blue nylon lace over taffeta street-length dress and wore a baby pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Suchan, chose a blue nylon street-length dress and also wore a baby pink carnation corsage.

One hundred and seventy-five guests attended the reception held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship hall of the church. A four-tiered white wedding cake centered the lace-covered reception table. The cake featured a clover leaf base and was decorated with pink and white flowers and lattice work and was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom in an archway. Crystal candle holders with pink and white taper flanked the cake.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Leonard Wacott who also baked it. Lorraine Roy was in charge of the coffee service and Nancy Simcoe poured the punch. Gifts were opened and displayed by Sandra Martinson, Kris Christensen and Arlene Ewell. Patricia Stombaugh was in charge of the guest book.

For the trip to Sun Valley the new Mrs. Suchan chose a brown knit suit with black accessories and wore a pink carnation corsage.

The bride was graduated from Buhl high school in 1958 and is a student at Idaho State college, Pocatello. The bridegroom was graduated from Rupert high school in 1958 and attended the University of Idaho, Moscow. He is attending ISU auto mechanics school. The couple is making their home at 1320 South Fourth street in Pocatello.

The bride was recently honored with a pantry shower in Rupert and also a bridal shower in Buhl with Winifred Stombaugh as hostess.

K. H. Bible Class

Meets for Study

KING HILL, Jan. 29—The Monday afternoon Bible class, sponsored by the Women's Missionary society, met at the home of Mrs. Lynn Sherman to study "The Spirit speaks to the church" based on the book of Acts.

"Poor Readers." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 10, N.Y.

If your child is slow in school, it might be because he needs help in reading. How parents can teach their child to read is explained by Dr. Patri in leaflet P-81. "Poor Readers." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 10, N.Y.

Sister giggled: "Wonder no longer, mother dear. It's Clarabelle."

"Clarabelle? What's she got to do with it?"

"Everything. How can you be so behind the scenes? She is Don's girl. She told him flatly that she was not dating any Dubs. His marks would have to come up or else—and she wasn't dating any boy who smelled like the backroom in Sweet's shop either. Hence the reformation."

"Can you beat it?" said mother. "I can talk until my tongue blisters and nothing comes of it but this child, scarcely out of her rompers, speaks, and he jumps through the hoops."

"Never doubt the power of a woman," said father. "Lucky she happens to be on your side."

Lucky—indeed are the parents and the boy—or the girl, whose "steady" looks up the social scale, up the ethical standards and takes his partner along with him. Never discount the influence of the chosen friend.

Try not to be jealous of this association. Every parent feels a twinge of pain to see the child of his tender care turn to an outsider for companionship. Few can watch a child being influenced by another to change his attitudes and his behavior but when the changes are for the good it is the thing to go along, discreetly praise the friend and make him welcome.

Above all, don't tease, don't taunt the child about his newfound alliance. That sets resentment in his mind and it is likely to be lasting long after the alliance has been broken up and forgotten. Accept it and make the best of it.

But what is to be done when the friend's influence is not for the better but is for the worse? Be patient and for the most part, silent. These early attachments are not always lasting ones. Each makes its mark and passes. Only a rare one endures into maturity.

Meanwhile uphold the home standards by example. It is what a parent does day by day that affects his child's thinking and behavior. Few ever stray far from the home example in manners, deeds, character. Whenever possible open the house to the boy-friend, the girl-friend of the moment. They are strong influences.

Carolyn Rebhan, Jerry Ashby Wed In Paul Services

PAUL, Jan. 29—Carolyn Rebhan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rebhan, was unified in marriage at 7:30 last Friday evening to Jerry Ashby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ashby, Heyburn.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Bishop Jack Smith, Twin Falls, cousin of the bride, at the home of her parents.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white nylon net over satin. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. She wore white nylon net mitts and carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin streamers. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown studded with seed pearls.

Diane Higley served as maid of honor. She was dressed in a white lace gown and wore a corsage of red carnations.

Norman Ashby, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rebhan wore an old-rose lace dress and Mrs. Ashby chose a dress of old rose crepe.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Paul school gymnasium. Pete Nielsen, nephew of the bride was master of ceremonies. A program was given. Mrs. Ray Sandoval sang "True Love," and Ray Sandford sang "Because." Both were accompanied by Mrs. Robert Widmier; Mrs. Noel Croft, Heyburn, gave a humorous reading.

Mrs. Calvin Heiner and Mrs. Faye Judd, both Heyburn, sang "Melody of Love" accompanied by Joan Croft. Jack Smith sang a number accompanied by Mrs. E. P. Herlick, associate minister, as grand page and grand usher appointed to the grand chapter of Idaho.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the chapter Tuesday evening at the Masonic temple.

Mrs. M. H. King, Burley was introduced and welcomed by Mrs. Spriggs.

A letter was read from Mrs. Constance Leibler, director of group welfare for the Twin Falls city unit of disaster relief and civil defense, inviting any interested members to attend.

The altar was draped in a memorial service for Walter C. Clark, Palm Springs, Calif.; Albert Edwin White, Fayette, and Vernie Smith, Flossie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Boritz all Malta.

The young couple will make their home in Burley where he is employed. Both were students at Minico high school.

U. S. Announces Grazing Fee Hike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)— The grazing fee for use of the federal range will be 22 cents monthly per animal-unit during 1959—up three cents from the 1958 fee.

Under the animal-unit measure, that means the fee will be 22 cents per month for each head of cattle; 44 cents per horse and 22 cents for each five sheep or goats.

The interior department announced the increase yesterday under the formula basing the fee on average livestock prices at markets in the 11 far western states during the 1958 calendar year.

The new rate affects nearly 20,000 stockmen who graze almost nine million head of livestock on about 160 million acres of federal rangelands.

The ranchlands are located in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Oregon and California.

No fee is charged for livestock under six months of age.

Four Unbeaten Conference Leaders Put Marks on Line In Local Week-End Action

Unbeaten leaders of the Magic Valley basketball conferences put their records on the line again this weekend. A total of 21 local games is slated for Friday and Saturday and one of the local teams will leave the district for a non-conference match. The Murtaugh Red Devils, Minico Spartans and Dietrich Blue Devils lead their conference schedules with their win records intact while the Wendell Trojans take aim on victory No. 5. Murtaugh is leading the Southside conference with a 5-0 record and needs only three more wins to clinch at least a tie for the championship. Dietrich (6-0) has six more league games remaining.

Adams, Malta Move up In Southside League

Wayne Adams took over the individual scoring lead and the Raft River Trojans of Malta came from far back to challenge for the overall offensive lead in Southside conference last week. Adams, the Trojans' long-shot artist, pumped through 43 points while his team racked up 121 in two outings last week. Times-News statistics show Adams now tops the lead with 87 tallies, 83 in his last three games and with a 17.4 average. He also leads last year's scoring champion and early pace-setter this year, Gary Nebecker, Murtaugh, who is a close second with 83 total and 16.6 average.

Those two men have nearly a two-point bulge over the rest of the field. John Mason of Hagerman dipped slightly but held onto third place with a 14.8 average while Hansen's Art Jones thrust his way back into fourth place at 14.6.

Wayne Bell, who along with Adams owns a great responsibility for Raft River's torrid punch, has moved into fifth place with a 14.4 average while Delco's Claude Telor dropped slightly to 13.2.

Hershel Griggs, top scorer for the Castleford Wolves, follows in seventh place at 12.7 with his teammate Keith Barnes just behind at 11.8. Steve Glauner, Hagerman owns a 10-point average.

Although challenged by the Trojans, Murtaugh Red Devils clung to their overall offense and defense first place standings. The Devil has averaged 52.4 points per game followed by Raft River with 51.2 and Hagerman at 50.8. Murtaugh holds a commanding defensive edge, holding opponents to 39 points per contest.

The Red-Devils also top the circuit in number of team fouls, being charged with an average of 18.6 per game. Individually, Randall Brewer fouled out of his only contest last week and maintained the dubious distinction of pacing the circuit in that department. He has 24 fouls in five games while Bell is next with 21 in five.

George Urle, sophomore backboard specialist of Hansen, has moved into first place in individual free throw shooting, owning 25 conversions in five games while Adams is second with 21 in five. Hansen bolstered its lead in team free throw shooting, pulling their average to 81.9. The average is the ratio of conversions to opponent fouls.

Campanella's Family Helped Offset Injury

GLEN-COVE, N. Y., Jan. 29 (UPI)—Roy Campanella said Wednesday on the first anniversary of his crippling auto accident that his wife and children "helped his rehabilitation"—more than all—the medicine and therapy in the world.

"My family and the opportunity to have a job have given me a new life," said the ex-catcher great of the Dodgers, whose baseball career was ended in a crack-up near his Long Island home last Jan. 28. "A good family and having a job is the best therapy any invalid can have."

Still paralyzed from the waist down, the 37-year-old Campanella said he wanted to thank "all the people who have wished me so much good."

"I never knew so many people cared," he said. "More people seem to be rooting for me now than when I was playing for the Dodgers. It helps you over the rough spots when you know so many people are on your side."

Despite his handicap, Campanella actually works harder than the average family head puts in a straight 40-hour week.

"I manage to keep busy," he said with a chuckle. "I've got my radio show, I write a weekly column, I'm writing a book, I spend at least two days a week at my liquor store and, of course, I have to visit the hospital twice a week. It adds up to a pretty tight schedule."

Campanella has a nationally-broadcast radio show called "Campy's Corner" five nights a week. He writes a column once a week for the Magazine "Jet." He is collaborating on the "Roy Campanella Story"—the story of his life. And, of course, he must keep his eye on his flourishing liquor store business and keep his weekly dates at the rehabilitation center.

Boudreau Wants to Help Hurlers by Widening Plate

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Lou Boudreau suggested today that it's time to give baseball back to the pitchers by widening home plate. Boudreau, former all-star infielder and former manager of the Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox and Kansas City Athletics, said his proposal would also help speed up the game. "It would certainly give the pitchers a much-needed break, but more important, it would eliminate about 50 pitches a game. There'd be more swinging, outs would come faster and there'd be fewer wild pitches and balls," Boudreau explained.

His plan is to widen the plate from its present 17 inches to 19½ inches.

"It's a simple change and would not revamp the game nor change the record books," Boudreau said.

Boudreau, who has been a sports announcer at Chicago Cubs games since leaving the A's two years ago, said he hadn't given much thought to the plight of the pitcher during his playing and managing days.

But recently, he said, he has been haunted by the suspicion that pitchers have been increasingly discriminated against.

Since major league pitchers lost the right to toss the spitball, they have been further penalized by the narrowing of the strike zone through the narrowing of the batter's crouch and by the livelier ball.

"But outside of these gradual aids to the hitter, baseball has been set in its ways. Don't misunderstand me, I am not in favor of radical changes, but I think my plan is the best I've heard for serving the double purpose of helping the pitcher and speeding up the game," Boudreau said.

Boudreau recalled that he was responsible for one minor change in the game—several years ago. This required the catcher to stay in the catcher's box when an intentional walk was in the making.

"Another help for the hitter," he said, "is with a grip."

Smart Tops PCC Scoring Parade On 19.4 Average

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Doug Smart of Washington, one of the leading basketball scorers in the Pacific Coast conference the past two seasons, moved to the top this year in statistics released today by the commissioner's office. In addition to being first in total scoring, the Washington senior was first in rebounding and second in field goal shooting. Smart has scored 136 points in seven games for an average of 19.4 points. Lee Harman of Oregon State was second with an average of 18.9 and Walt Torrence of UCLA was third with 18.4.

UCLA's Rafer Johnson had the best floor shooting percentage, hitting 16 goals in 27 tries for 59.3 percent. Smart was second with 55.5 and Harman third with 53.2.

In rebounding, Smart recovered 92 of 568 chances for a 16.2 per cent mark. Darrel Imhoff of California was second with 12.6 and John Livelious of Idaho was third with 12.0.

Jim Woodland of Oregon State had the top free throw percentage, scoring 27 points on 29 attempts for a mark of 93.2.

Last week against Idaho Harman scored 12 goals on 14 tries for an 85.7 percentage mark to erase Smart's conference record for field goal percentage in one game of 81.3 set earlier this month. Harman also tied another PCC mark against Idaho when he made 10 consecutive field goals to equal the mark of Jack Lovrich, Southern Cal., set in 1956.

In team statistics, Oregon State took over the scoring and free throw lead by averaging 64.8 points per game. On the free throw line the Beavers had a 67.7 percentage mark. In field goal shooting, Washington led the 41.8 per cent, California had the best defense, allowing 47.8 points per game while UCLA led in rebounds with 52.3 per cent.

Walston has also shown an unerring eye from the charity line, putting 57 of 75 free throw attempts through the net for a phenomenal high school completion average of 76 percent. Last week he hit 12 of 16 free throws against Borah Hill, scoring 24 total points and putting Nampa it was six of seven from the charity line with a 12-point foul output.

Fred is an "A" and "B" student high school and takes his studies seriously. He said he would like to continue playing basketball in college next year, but added if it interfered with his studies, no more basketball.

The light heavyweight champion has one sure fight on tap for 1969. That's the return bout with Canada's Yvon Durelle, the rugged Fisherman who was knocked out in the 11th round of a memorable brawl in Montreal last Dec. 10.

"That's my bird in the hand," said Moore, here for a sports banquet. "But before I fight him I would like to fight Britisher Henry Cooper. He's been offered $150,000 to fight me. I'll take a lot less—maybe $50,000. But I'll beat him and then I'll be in position to fight the winner of the Floyd-Patterson-Ingebar Johnson heavyweight championship fight."

How about middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson who has expressed desire to meet him for the 175-pound crown?

"Ray should know it takes two to dance," replied Moore. "He's not going to get the whole pot fighting me. After all, it would be my title at stake. Then, too, if I fight Ray the purse would be so big I couldn't fight more than once this year."

Cleveland Has All Players Back in Fold

By United Press International

Frank Lane achieved his annual goal of being "firstest" with the mostest" today with the announcement that the Cleveland Indians have signed all their players for the 1969 season.

The Indians achieved that status yesterday when infielders Woody Held and Bill Harrell and pitchers Bill Dailey and Hal Woodeshick returned their contracts. Lane, who always made it a point to sign his entire roster first when he led the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, said this is the earliest date on which he ever accomplished the job.

Harrell hit .314 in 101 games last season while Held hit only .194 in 67 games after the Indians acquired him from Kansas City. Woodeshick has a 6-6 rating for Cleveland and Dailey was 7-7 for San Diego in the Pacific coast league.

ELLS GOLF COURSE

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 29 (UPI)—The city commission formally approved a contract Tuesday settling a golf course to the Latter-day (Mormon) church. The church plans to use the land for a senior college and the city plans to use the money to build two new golf courses.

BALTIMORE EVENING SUN AND BROWNSBURG BROWNSBURG HAD BEEN GIVEN A $100,000 bonus for winning a three-year contract to replace one which expires at the end of the next season.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Carroll Rosenblum, owner of the Baltimore Colts, Wednesday refused to confirm or deny published reports that coach Weeb Ewbank had been given a $25,000 bonus for winning the 1968 National Football championship. But he let fall solid hints that the story was essentially correct.

The Baltimore Evening Sun said Ewbank had been given a $100,000 bonus for the title. The championship was not at stake.

Stengel Opens Campaign Against Loafing

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Mickey Mantle, the man the New York Yankees expected to be the "new DiMaggio" obviously was a step deeper in Casey Stengel's doghouse today as result of his salary holdout.

Mantle reportedly receives from $70,000 to $75,000. He is believed to be asking for $80,000.

Stengel believes Mantle could earn

$125,000 but adds "he has kept himself from earning it." The Mick obviously was one of Stengel's main targets as the grizzled Yankee skipper announced a new get tough policy in which laggards will be fined and those who fracture training rules "had better be able to tell mid-night from noon" on the threat of being hit in the ear by a moving van. In other words, those who don't put out 100 per cent may be traded. This could include Mantle.

Mantle is a man of great baseball talents. But he has not become either "the new" DiMaggio or a fairly acceptable facsimile of the old one. Last season he drew official wrath when he missed the train on a western trip. Stengel has made a point of his fielding deficiencies and said, on signing his current managerial contract, that Mantle was his "greatest disappointment."

Mantle is inclined to be sulky and petulant. Thus you can draw your own conclusion when Stengel says:

"I wouldn't want a dissatisfied player. If he doesn't have a 100 per cent feeling, I would have to say we are open for deals. Nobody has a good year every year. Mantle led in three departments. He could have led in five, for he has the points do it."

Thus when Stengel launches into a tirade against those who don't run out every ball, and against violators of the Yankees' unusual curfew, most of the signs point in Mantle's direction. He is also irritated, in a more minor vein, against Whitey Ford.

"The rules will be more strict this year," Stengel says as he looks forward to the season. "They're going to have to hustle or they'll be fined. And they better obey the training rules. Anybody who thinks he's bigger than the club might find himself traded."

Stengel, under all his ramblings, is concerned with those who stay out too late at night and can be added that Mantle is not one of those with a reputation for being "healthy, wealthy and wise."

"You know who's out at night," Stengel barks when asked to name names. "They have 'em on every ball club. We do, too. I've been accused of being too easy. Well, the manager is responsible for his men getting in at night. Ours are going to do just that."

"The ball club shouldn't be robbed because some guy is tired or is doing three or four other things that he shouldn't be doing," Stengel added brusquely. "Any man who is too tired to run 90 feet will get fined on this club. Then, if that doesn't work, I'll have to change my mind and get rid of two or three players I don't want to get rid of."

In other words, the Yanks can expect to put out—or get out. Even Mantle is no exception.

12 Major Colleges Said Ready to Form New League

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Twelve of the nation's leading independent football colleges have made plans for nationwide conference, according to an article published Wednesday in Sports Illustrated. The article says the plans were crystallized at a meeting in Cincinnati early this month. The outline calls for a football conference "not to challenge the increasingly popular pros for the public's support." Sports Illustrated says the colleges involved are Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, Syracuse and Penn State, which will form an eastern division, and lists Southern California,

By The Associated Press

The athletic directors of UCLA and Southern California said Wednesday that the formation of the so-called "airplane conference" of football powers apparently is a few years away.

"We made some progress toward formation of a coast-to-coast inter-collegiate conference at our meeting in Cincinnati, but the discussion was informal," said Wilbur Johns of UCLA. "I'm optimistic about the potential but nobody can name a time when actual formation might be effected."

Said Jess Hill of Southern California: "I'm optimistic that some sort of an organization along nationwide lines eventually will be formed. I'd say we're getting warmer all the time but I wouldn't even attempt to guess when it might come about."

A nationwide conference of leading independent colleges "has not begun to crystallize," J. Gordon Goss of Seattle.

Goss, faculty athletic representative at the University of Washington, said the announcement by Sports Illustrated magazine was "too advanced in its statements."

"We are always willing to talk," he said, "but we made it perfectly clear at the Cincinnati meeting that we had no authority except to explore possibilities."

A new college football conference, rivaling the professionals for public favor, is a nebulous thing but could be organized in a year and a half says California's athletic director.

"The idea is very promising," California's Greg Englehard said Wednesday night at the Berkley when questioned about the prospects. "It's nebulous, of course. We must get the approval of our administrations. But we are hopeful."

Englehard said he could see no conflict between the proposed new circuit and the Athletic Association of Western universities which starts next fall with California, Southern California, UCLA, Washington and possibly Stanford as members. All of these are potential members of the nationwide loop.

Bruins Entertain Boise, Caldwell In Southern Idaho League Action

The Twin Falls Bruins will have a chance to help scramble the Southern Idaho conference basketball standings and an equal opportunity to climb up the ladder as they host the Boise Braves and the league-leading Caldwell Cougars here this weekend. The Bruins will be out for revenge on both counts, having dropped decisions to each team on their annual swing through the Boise valley. They will take on Boise Friday night and finish up with Caldwell Saturday.

Riding in sixth place in the seven-team league, Twin Falls must win this weekend if it hopes to gain the first division by the end of the season. The Bruins have played half their conference schedule and show only a 2-4 record of their work. Caldwell currently is 6-1 with Boise, just a rung above Twin Falls at 3-4.

In action last week, Dave Fix regained his scoring touch and took over second spot in average for the individual scoring race. McClure, who has gained 34 of his 96 conference points from the free throw line, boasts a 16-point average, which ties him with Larry Stubbs, Richfield, in the race. The past week saw McClure raise his average 3.5 points while Stubbs hiked his average by one point.

Bob Rinehart of the conference leading Dietrich Blue Devils, hit for 15 points in his last outing, which is exactly his scoring average in 90 games. However, the total point lead is held by junior Lee Hutchinson, Camas County, who has 113 points. He has played in eight games for a 14.1 average compared with seven games for Stubbs, who has 112 points, and six for McClure.

Dorman of Bils has moved up into fourth place with a 13.2 average. The past week saw Dorman raise his average 3.5 points while Stubbs hiked his average by one point.

In action last week, Dave Fix regained his scoring touch and took over second spot in average for the individual scoring race and third in total. His 89-point total trails Jim Keller, Caldwell, who has 130 and Fred Walston, Boise, with 101. But both have played in seven games compared with six for Fix. Keller's average is 18.8 with Fix second at 14.9 and Walston checking in at 14.4.

Fix pushed his season total to 171 for a 13.2 average followed by Bill Hilton with 98 in 13 games.

Larry Kincheloe is third with 74 season and 28 conference points while Larry Rogers had 31 for the league and 61 for the year.

Twin Falls has averaged 43.9 points per game for the season and 45.5 for the conference but has allowed 50 points per game overall and 54 in league play.

Free throw shooting has contributed almost one-third of the points scored against the Bruins. Opposition has turned 242 Bruin fouls into 214 free throws. Overall, opposition has scored 859 points against Twin Falls. In conference play, 109 Twin Falls fouls have allowed opponents 92 free points.

Conversely, Twin Falls has scored only 161 points on 213 opponent fouls in the season and the ratio is 87 to 111 in conference play.

Fix tops the team in free shooting with 87 season conversions and 33 in league play. Hilton has 23 league fouls and 45 for the year, to lead in that department.

The defensive lead is held by Richfield, which dislodged Dietrich. The Tigers have allowed opposition 37.2 points per game compared with 37.5 for the Blue Devils.

Air Force Pro Cops Lead in Seniors' Meet

DUNEDIN, Fla., Jan. 29 (UPI)—Jack Isaac, for 20 years a pro at Langley air force base, Va., set the pace with a sizzling six-under-par 66 as the Professional Golfers association Seniors' tournament advanced through its second stage Wednesday.

The day's competition was limited to players in the 50-64 age group, and nine of them bettered par 72.

Hard on the heels of the 50-year-old Isaac was Dick Mats of Fort Worth, Tex., with a 67, and one stroke behind him was Charley Burkhardt of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The other pro leaders were Al Hulse of Glen Ellyn, Ill., and Leonard Gibson of Kansas City, with 69s; and Ted Meneely of San Antonio, Tex.; Andy Gibson of Baltimore, Md.; Jack Ryan of Louisville, Ky., and Willie Goggan of San Jose, Calif., all with 71s.

The 55-and-over field returns for its second round Thursday. The 64 group plays again Friday, and the low 100 and tie play the third and fourth rounds Saturday and Sunday for the championship.

The only champion to see action was Don Jordan, the welter king, who stopped Alvaro Gutierrez of Mexico in three rounds in his first appearance since beating Virgil Atkins for the title. The championship was not at stake.

Old Mother Earth's Shape Is Actually Somewhat Like Pear

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (UPI) — Old Mother Earth is actually a little flattened—caused by variations in the Earth's shape with consequent differences in the Earth's tug of gravitation.

She's a bit bulgy in the south, and pointed in the north.

This hidden truth was discovered by Tiny Vanguard, the grapefruit-size U.S. satellite launched last St. Patrick's day.

Vanguard's discovery was announced yesterday to the American Physical Society by Dr. J. A. O'Keefe, Miss Ann Eckels, and R. K. Squires, of the National Aeronautics and Space Ad-

Vanguard permitted scientists to draw an accurate new picture of the Earth because the satellite travels so high above the Earth's air, and in a very precise, trustworthy orbit.

But there are little wobbles in her more weight than the thin crust presumably could support. Dr. O'Keefe and Dr. Robert Jastrow, also of NASA, explained to newsmen. This indicates the Earth's interior is not so plastic as many scientists have assumed.

Some mechanical strength is needed to support the pear-like shape in the north, and the bulges in the south, the scientists said.

Slow convection currents moving through the mantle—the material between the Earth's liquid core and the upper crust—might be an explanation for the shape.

New York Citizens Face New Taxes, Withholding Proposal

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (UPI) — Taxpayers in New York state are being prepared today for a cut in their take home pay.

If Governor Rockefeller's proposal to collect the state income tax by withholding at source is adopted, New York will join 11 other states and the District of Columbia which use some form of this system. In eight other states the plan is reported as being talked over.

The withholding method, started by the federal government in 1943, has its defenders and critics. But most agree that this collection system does bring in more dollars from the taxpayers.

Seventeen states don't tax individual incomes. But the Tax

Withholding week by week is less painful to the taxpayer than having to take care of one big sum.

There is less chance for evasion

when the boss hands over the money than when the worker is left to forget about it. Too, it is a surer way of collecting from out of state

Students Get Safety Study On Firearms

RUPERT, Jan. 29.—A course on firearms safety will be offered again in Minidoka schools according to Noel Reynolds, local fish and game department officer.

Noel Reynolds said that the classes will begin Monday at three schools in the county. The classes will include instruction on firearms for the first three days of the week, with students getting actual experience with guns the following week at the Rupert Rifle and Gun club range south of town.

These classes are made possible through the cooperation of the fish and game department and the local school system, and are held throughout the state. The classes feature films on gun safety and individual instruction on gun handling and conservation laws.

This will be the third year for the classes in Minidoka county schools. Seventh grade students at the three schools will be included again.

Schedule for the three days instruction is from 9 to 10 a.m. at the Paul school, 11 a.m. to noon at Heyburn, and from 12:45 p.m. to 2:15 p.m. at Washington school in Rupert.

Reynolds will be assisted in the classes by local men working as instructors, as well as by a representative from the fish and game department.

Nixon's Talks Seen Bids for Labor Unions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Vice-President Richard M. Nixon's tribute to the anti-communist record of American labor leaders has been viewed in political circles as a bold bid for union support in 1960.

Informed sources said it was informed that Nixon twice cited the labor leaders in a New York speech appraising Soviet Deputy Premier Mikoyan's recent visit to this country.

At one point, Nixon frankly suggested that some business leaders who had entertained Mikoyan "could learn a lesson from our labor leaders who had to fight to expel communists from their unions and in the process learned how to deal with them."

Nasty Attitude Wishes Nixon

By contrast, Nixon said he was concerned about the "naive attitude and lack of understanding" shown by some Americans abroad.

The vice president underscored his belief that Mikoyan is a shrewd communist with "steel-like toughness" and dedication to his Marxist beliefs.

Nixon emphasized there was "no naivete, no softness" in the little Armenian from Moscow.

In a speech to the Fordham college alumni, the vice president also paid this tribute to labor:

"He [Mikoyan] admitted almost with grudging admiration that the strongest defenders of the American system, the most vigorous critics of communism and the most uncompromising supporters of our friends stand in Berlin were not the traditional whipping boys of communist propaganda, the Wall Street bankers and businessmen, but the leaders of our free trade unions who represented the views of millions of America's wage earners."

Thaw' Chances Slim

Nixon also said the United States wants a thaw in the cold war as much as Russia but he predicted little chance for a warmer climate as long as Russia adheres to its positions on major international issues.

He answered a call by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for the United States to take the lead in easing critical East-West relations.

"We too want a thaw in the cold war because we realize that, if there is none, we will all be eventually frozen in the ice so hard that only a nuclear bomb will break it," he said.

But the chance of a thaw is slight, Nixon said, where the world is constantly subjected to the icy blasts of Soviet propaganda against all those who stand in the way of international communism's drive to dominate the world."

De Mille's Estate Goes to Daughter

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29 (UPI)—Most of the estate of Cecil B. De Mille was left to his daughter, Cecilia, the will of the late producer has disclosed.

De Mille's 84-year-old wife, Constance, was not named to share in the estate. The producer explained that she already had been adequately provided for.

As the moviemaker's only natural child, Mrs. Cecilia De Mille Harper was bequeathed half of her father's stock holdings and all of his real estate with the exception of Paradise ranch which went to the Cecil B. De Mille trust.

The size of the estate was not disclosed but it was thought to be a multi-million dollar fortune. The will, filed for probate in superior court, said only that the value of real and personal property both exceeded $10,000.

Wood River's Grange Gives Four Degrees

SHOSHONE, Jan. 29.—The first and fourth degrees were conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Dale Eden and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bergin at the Wood River Center Grange meeting.

Juvenile Grange officers were installed. A report by Donald Sandy on the Sims benefit showed $200 netted from the project. The Sims family lost their home in a fire. Mrs. Will Sant also made a quilt and sold it with the proceeds going to the Sims family.

Ward Mills, chairman of the resource committee, reported on activity in Idaho legislature. The group voted in opposition to the proposed higher ages for drivers. Grange members felt parents have better control over their children at 14 than at 16 and they will take parental suggestions better at the younger age.

Mrs. Donald Sandy reported on the county-wide library project and was instructed to obtain more information for the next meeting.

Mrs. R. B. Kelley was installing officer for the juvenile Grangers. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitehead, marshals, and Dennis Stutzman was emblem bearer with Judy Peak as emblem bearer.

Dean Barney was installed as patron for the Juvenile Grange for another year. Tony Barney is master; Gene Chaney, overseer; Cheryl Lowery, lecturer; Richard Barney, steward; Don Peak, assistant steward; Edie Sandy, chaplain; Susan Hall, secretary-treasurer; Gaylen Gudule, gatekeeper; Marlene Lowery, Ceres; DeAnn Stutzman, Poona; Glenda Guthrie, Flora, and JoAnn Peak, lady assistant steward.

Minimum School Funds Received

BURLEY, Jan. 29—Cassia county schools this week received $67,643.03 as its share of the funds of the minimum program for education and transportation for the school year 1958-59, recently distributed to the state's 44 counties by the state treasurer.

When added to the July and October apportionments the total of $11,187,793.70 represents 99 per cent of the state's share of the minimum program for the present year.

The total minimum program for the 1958-59 school year is $20,757,079.64, with the state's share being $12,300,060.74. This leaves only $119,187.64 to complete the state's obligation for the year.

Special Price
For Turkeys Is Scheduled

expected to decline in the coming weeks to meet lower pork prices.

Potatoes are plentiful and cheap. Stocks from last fall's big crop are the largest since 1950.

Other vegetable bargains are white Danish-type cabbage, mushrooms, carrots, turnips, beets, Texas spinach, red radishes, endive, and escarole. Good buys are available in parsnip, celery, onions, new green cabbage, broccoli and lettuce.

Prices Vary

Cauliflower and cucumbers are fairly good to moderately priced. Yellow or green squash is markedly higher. The condition of eggplant, snap beans and peppers is reported spotty.

Nearby apples and Florida's Temple oranges, tangerines and lemons also are a good buy.

Range Aide Sets
Lincoln Schedule

SHOSHONE, Jan. 29—Vernon Heldenrech, range conservationist from Eagle, will be in the Lincoln county area Friday, according to announcement from the local soil conservation office.

The conservationist will be at Dietrich school from 9 to 10 a.m.; at Richfield from 11 a.m. to noon and at Shoshone from 1:30 to 2 p.m.

He will lecture and give a demonstration with emphasis on the effect of rain and excess amounts of water on unprotected soil.

California's navel oranges and lemons also are a good buy.

Drama Tour

BURLEY, Jan. 29—Among 12 Idaho State college drama students to make the tour of New Zealand, Japan, Korea and other Far East points this spring will be Beverly Redman, Albion.

Mrs. Redman will supervise makeup for the troupe, and play the role of "Grace" in the production, "Bus Stop," to be presented on the tour.

The troupe will leave late this month.

McLemore Protests Athletic's Punishment of USC Students

BY HENRY HATTEMORE
I were a knight, I'd had a suit of shining armor. I'd climb up to the top of my roof, wind up my pitching arm, take dead aim, and hurl my gauntlet squarely into the faces of the officials of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

These men I would challenge are the ones who, not long ago, banned just about all the athletes of the University of Southern California from championship competition in 15 sports. The ban is for a year, and knocks the youngsters out of more than 25 top title events.

The reason: Punishment for two USC football recruiting violations. My thinking may be cloudy, even on hot, bright days, but to me this is the cruelest penalty ever levied by brass-bound nabobs of amateur sport.

To cut competition from under the feet of tennis players, track and field men, swimmers, baseball players because of low-links by the footballers, is as unfair as it would be to send everybody working in a bank to jail because the head teller absconded with the bank's money.

The NCAA officials defend the blanket penalty on the grounds that its aim is to penalize the schools, not individuals. This may well be the NCAA's aim, but does it have to be? Couldn't the aim be changed?

Why not change it, say, so that the full charge of penalty would be leveled directly at the coach or coaches, responsible for the illegal recruiting?

A very simple rule would go a long way toward stopping the evils of illegal recruiting:

Just have one rule that said, in plain language, that the head coach would be held to account for any violations. If there were, the coach would be banned from coaching at any NCAA school, and his salary forfeited.

A rule like this would go more

Pattern Program Slated for Group

Plans for a pattern-fitting program for the next meeting were made by members of the Sew or Serve 4-H Club Saturday at the home of Mrs. Marvin Sheridan, leader.

Joan Pope, vice president, conducted the meeting.

Members voted against the purchase of a sewing machine, since others have been offered for use of the club.

No bread for judging was brought by the second year members.

The next meeting will be Feb. 14 at the home of Mrs. Sheridan.
